50X1-HUM

1. Throughout Poland, ration cards have been introduced for meat, and with the food situation becoming increasingly difficult the rationing of other food-stuffs is expected.
2. All former A.K. (Armia Krajowa-Home Army) soldiers who are registered bear the same number in their military books. All former A.K. officers have been dismissed from their jobs.
3. The Registration of Address Cards (Entry), i.e., the Karty Zameldowania introduced following the registration of address campaign (Akcja Meldunkowa) of 1950-51, are still valid.*
4. Except for the entrance to the Hel-Gdansk Gulf, which is patrolled by coast guard vessels, practically no control is exercised in the Oliwa-Puck coastal area. The population of Szczecin and vicinity is subject to strict control of movement, which includes inspection of identity documents in the streets. The reason for the severity of control is the hostile attitude toward the Russians of the Szczecin population, particularly the port workers, following recent anti-Soviet incidents. There is complete liberty of movement in the region of the Karwaskie Lakes, west of Gdansk. The lakes are easily reached by bus from Gdansk, and lodging can be obtained with the fishermen of the lake side without control formalities. The islands in the lakes, which are completely deserted and are covered with undergrowth, offer excellent hideouts except in winter.
